Emne: Registration for the Fehmarnbelt Days is open

Fehmarnbelt Days 2016, Hamburg

For the third time running and for three days, the Fehmarnbelt Days 2016 provide a unique platform for stakeholders from all over the emerging Fehmarnbelt Region to meet.

The Fehmarnbelt Days 2016 will be held in Hamburg on 20 – 22 September 2016 at the Hafencity University Hamburg.

The event is tailored to allow stakeholders to exchange ideas and experiences, to discuss key issues and further cross-border collaboration across the region from Northern Germany to Denmark and Sweden. In 2014 about 750 participants joined in.

The recent program is very promising. The Fehmarnbelt Days 2016 deal with key areas such as regional development, science and business, sustainable infrastructure, transport and logistics, renewable energies, innovation, culture, tourism, labour market as well as education and research.

Make your registration free of charge now by using the following link.
