

Dear Ms Blixt,

My sincere apologies for not following up on this invitation sooner, I hope things are well on your end.

I would like to provide you with an updated version of the agenda for the event, as we have had more speakers come on board for the event, including the Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Health of Malta, since the last version of the agenda was provided.

I do hope that your diary will be able to accommodate our event, and would be happy to set up a call with your office to discuss the event, and your potential participation, in greater detail.

Regards,

Pranav Jain
