To the Danish Parliament

Subject: Call on the Danish Parliament to enhance the positive response of the European Union to the peace and dialogue initiative launched by Moroccan King Mohammed VI to settle disputes between Morocco and Algeria

The Scandinavian Forum for Communication (SOFT) would like to call on the Danish Parliament to enhance the positive response of the European Union to the peace and dialogue initiative launched by HM King Mohammed VI, to settle the transient differences between Morocco and Algeria.

This initiative proposes to create a joint political consultation mechanism between the two countries as a way to examine all outstanding issues and find appropriate solutions.

The call of the Scandinavian Forum for Communication (SOFT) is motivated by the positive impact that this historic initiative can have on the stability of the North Africa Region, as well alleviating the dangers that threaten the European Union countries (terrorism, illegal immigration, drug trafficking, ...).

Furthermore, this initiative will strengthen security cooperation between the two countries in order to put an end to many scourges, such as terrorism and illegal immigration.

The appeal of the King of Morocco will also have positive repercussions on economic cooperation between the European Union and the countries of North Africa, insofar as these countries can form an integrated economic bloc, capable of promoting trade and facilitating North-South dialogue.
