In connection with the war in Ukraine, law enforcement agencies from several European countries are working together to look into how war crimes in Ukraine can be investigated. The Norwegian police are part of this effort.

The Norwegian police are therefore seeking to come into contact with persons who may have witnessed or are victims of war crimes.

We have prepared some questions to find out who we may later contact for more information, and we ask that you answer them. Replying to these questions does not mean that you will automatically be contacted by the Norwegian police, but you may be.

You have no duty to answer these questions and whether you answer them or not will have no effect on your stay or asylum status in Norway.
